

4th Grade September Notes

We hope your your child is getting into the routine of being a 4th grader. As teachers, we feel it's going well, but we know that some are still struggling and we're trying to help.

We are currently working on adding and subtracting in Math. If you have questions please let us know. One thing to look for with every new lesson is a Family Newsletter. It explains what the lesson is and gives tips so you can help from home.

In Reading we are talking about Author's Purpose and the "Plot" story Structure.

The 4th grade teachers will send home a Scholastic book order on a monthly basis. You do not have to buy anything, but we find that they usually offer some decent deals on books. It can be a great way to inspire your child to read without spending a lot of money.

Many students are in need of headphones. We use several programs that have animated videos and they can't hear the lesson without them. If your child doesn't have headphone please get them as soon as possible. The office has good quality headphones that block noise for sale for $10.00 Each.

Have a safe and happy Labor Day!!
